We the seniors of '88 are a collection of the finest. We have had some ups and downs throughout these years. But with each others support we pulled through. We accomplished what has needed to be done and proud of what we did. Now it's time for each of us to go our seperate ways and reach for our own goals, never forgetting who we are and where we came from.

Juniors

Today we follow, Tomorrow we lead.

The Junior class of 1988 is a group made up of both athletes and scholars. Every challenge this class was faced with was met head-on and successfully conquered.

This was a year of "firsts" for the Juniors. Some of their new trends were: receiving their Junior rings when they were sophomores, ordering class keys and graduation announcements extra early, having Miss Mooreland in the spring instead of fall, having three Juniors as paper editors, and many other things.

Other activities for the Juniors included Speech, FFA, FHA, 4-H, Track, Basketball, Football, Inklings, All-School Play, and planning for the Prom.

The Junior boys even set some new trend themselves. Four Junior boys, Jason Hensley, Kent West, Mark Burdine, and Neil Mazuronic all joined FHA. All four were in the top ten to go to State Convention in April.

Another big deal for the Juniors was the dreaded ACT test. Most went in a group to Woodward, Alva, or Stillwater. Is this supposed to prove the theory of "strength in numbers"? Taking this test proved to the Juniors that they didn't know everything!

When it came time for Miss Mooreland, ten girls entered and all were superb. No one even suspected the Junior girls had such hidden talents as singing, dancing, speaking, and even walking gracefully!

A Junior class member's year is full of both happy and sad times and a great anticipation for what the future might hold. Although the Juniors of 1988 are the followers of today, they will definitely be the leaders of tomorrow.

Sophomores —

Reaching For Greater Heights

The sophomores really did reach for greater heights this year. Not only did they become more active in organizations and sports, they were finally recognized as a class that was full of individuals, but still worked together.

They were faced with many new things this year, including more homework and less time. To the really lucky ones came the privilege of getting a car. To the dismay of the upperclassmen however, most of the sophomores had the chance to drive to school at least once during the year, causing a definite lack of choice parking places.

After hours, the sophomores could be found in any variety of places. Shopping, hunting, and just hanging out at EZ-Pickups were the favorite pastimes of sophomores.

But through it all, the sophomores accomplished everything that was set before them and they did it with a definite amount of style.

Freshmen —

Caught In The Middle

When you're a freshmen, things aren't as easy as they used to be. With a seven hour school day, you've got even more books to keep track of and more places to be in at just the right time. Dustin Goodman and Russell Fields managed to do all of this and obtain the honor of Valedictorian and Salutatorian with a 3.67 and a 3.62 grade point average respectively.

Freshman have learned to create new and better excuses for being late to class and for losing books and assignments. Excuses range from the ever-so-popular "You mean that was due today?", to the very bizarre excuses that would confuse any sane person.

But in the end, the freshmen were just one step closer to the end. This was a class full of both individuality and togetherness.

Eighth Grade —

Rising Toward The Top

Rising toward the top describes the eighth graders to a "T." They now had lockers in the main building, had become the fashion plates of the Junior High, weren't afraid to show spirit in front of upperclassmen, and better yet — underclassmen of their own to pick on!

The new seven hour school day allowed the eighth graders to take more classes. Some of the newer ones were Exploratory courses like Art, Creative Writing, Technology Education, and Typing. Another class for the eighth grade was Pre-Algebra.

The eighth graders could be found at any sports activity, out hunting whatever was in season, and messing around with friends.

The 1988 eighth graders are rising toward the top loaded with dreams and determination. They will be able to reach all their future goals just as they have in the past — successfully.

Seventh Grade —

The Highest Towers Begin At The Ground

This year's seventh grade class was a very enthusiastic group. As always, there was the panic of not finding your class in time, running into an upperclassman, or worse yet — walking into class late only to find yourself in the wrong room!

Most seventh graders participated in many activities. Among them were Sports, Art, 4-H, Music, and Band. Favorite extra curricular activities included hunting, fishing, shopping, and running around with friends.

SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

THE LEADERS

Six hundred years before Christ, a wise Chinese philosopher gave us three principles of leadership. As you observe respected people and great leaders in history, you will find that many have followed these principles.

If you, as a graduate from Mooreland High School, desire to be respected as a leader in your life, you should first learn to be gentle; secondly, learn to be frugal; and thirdly, practice humility. Be gentle and you may be bold; be frugal and you may be liberal, and avoid putting yourself above others.

Model these behaviors and your peers will elevate you to leadership.

DEDICATED TO ALETHA CLAYTON

We would like to dedicate this page to Mrs. Aletha Clayton for her many years as a 4-H leader and her dedication to the youth of our community.

Even though retired, we still see Mrs. Clayton conducting 4-H meetings, substituting, going to curriculum contests, tutoring students in math, attending school events and encouraging every student to do their best.

We, the present and past, students of MHS would like to take this time to say thanks and let you know how much you are appreciated for the time and effort given not only to 4-H members but to all the student body of MHS.

FHA

1988 was a year of surprises for everybody in FHA. Not only did we have four boys join the organization, all of them were in the top ten to go to State Convention. Congratulations, guys!

FHA members participated in many events this year. Some of them were: FFA-FHA Rush Party, Sub-District Rally, the annual Fair Booth, Mum Sales at Homecoming, T-shirt and Jam Sales, and State Convention

Outstanding FHA members for this year were Roxie Fussell and Tanya Carra.

Senior members were Roxie Fussell, Amy Schlarb, Tanya Carra, Melissa Patterson, Megan Swigart, Renyssa Wines, and Kellie McIntosh.

ICE

Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education (ICE), is a class that teaches its students about the different types of careers that are available to young people today. To get full credit for this class, you have to have a job. Some of the jobs held by this year's students are cook, convenience store clerk, and various others.

ICE will teach you to look around you, and see all the opportunities that are out there just waiting to be tried.

THE INKLINGS

THE "WRITE" STUFF!

This was a busy year for the Inklings. They held several meetings, entered several writing contests, and produced many works that were enjoyed by everyone.

Leading the Inklings this year were: President — Stacy Butler; Vice-President — Melynda Cheap; Secretary-Treasurer — Monica Reid; and Student Council — Tasha Harmon

Joel Kendall and Tasha Harmon received Honorable Mention Awards at the OBU Writer's Fair in April. Congratulations to both of you!

The Inklings are a fun group. If you like writing stories or poems, maybe you should join this organization. There's always something new going on!

BAND

The MHS Band had an excellent year in 1988. As usual, there was an overwhelming number of Junior High members, who seemed not to understand the importance of being in this band. But as the year wore on, they began to realize that being in band was hard work, and they settled down to help make this one of the Band's better years.

The Football Band was always on hand to support the team at all the home games. The Pep Band did a fine job at home Basketball games and at the State Tournament

The MHS Concert Band not only had an excellent year, they also set a state record by receiving a Superior rating at the District Contest for the 30th year. The band's other accomplishments are listed below.

State Contest-II+ in Concert and a II+ in Sight Reading
Tri-State-II+ in Concert, and the Marching Band earned a I in the Parade

There were only a few students in Senior High Vocal Music, but as usual, there were quite a few in the Junior High Vocal Music classes.

AIASA

American Industrial Arts Student Association (AIASA), combines everything from learning how to build something to actually building it. AIASA members participated in two conferences this year, one in the Fall and one in Mid-Winter. They also attended a State Convention and the Merric 500 at Weatherford.

They received a 3rd place at the Industrial Bowl, a 7th place in the Creed, and a 7th place in Technical Writing. They have competitive events in Bridge Building, Drafting, Electricity/Electronics, Graphic Logos, and many other events geared to teaching students more about the future of technology.

BEARCAT FOOTBALL

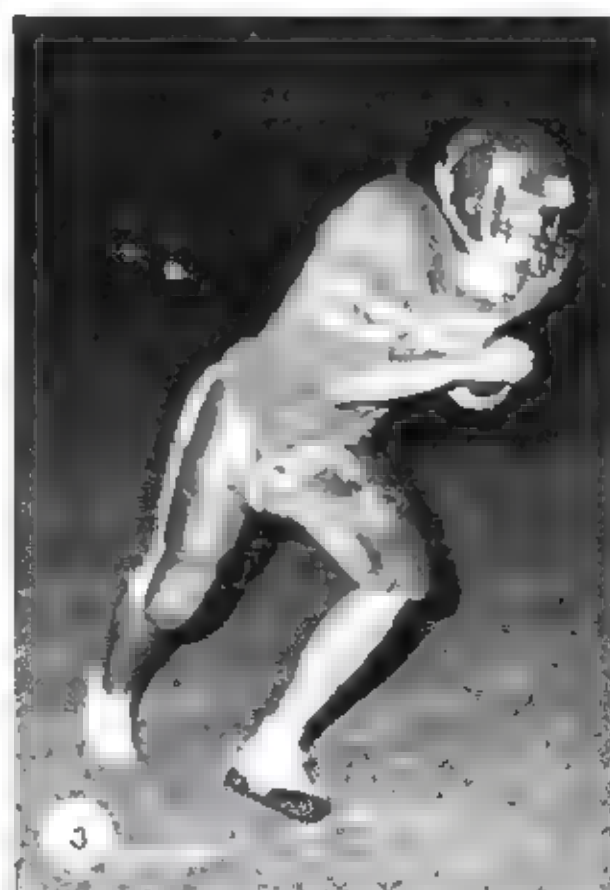

On August 14, 1987 sixteen individuals stepped on the practice field to play the game of football. They gradually became a team made not of individuals, but of team players. They were determined to endure through the rough times and go on to better ones

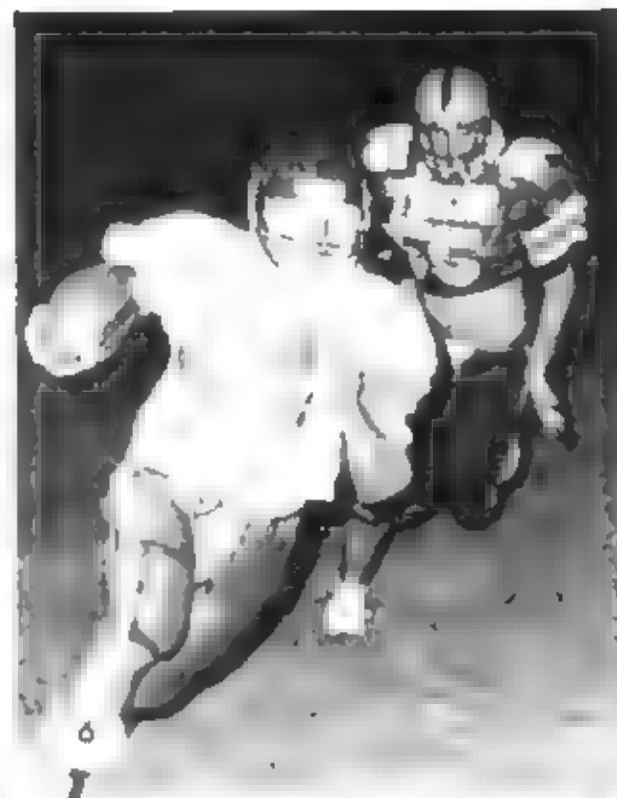

The 1987 Bearcat football team might not be memorable for wins or points scored, but to the players, it will always be a year to remember. They will remember the unity and the closeness that each player felt toward the team on and off the field. They will remember all the fun times that football brought to them. They will all remember that "touch of class" that distinguishes a Mooreland athletic team from all the rest

SENIOR HIGH GIRLS' BASKETBALL

GIRLS GO TO STATE! This was a surprise that was welcomed by every Bearcat fan. The Lady Bearcats were truly the "Cinderella" team of 1987-88. They started their season off well with a blowout of Aline-Cleo. As the year progressed, so did the girls. They gradually became a team consisting not of fourteen individuals, but a squad of fourteen team players. They showed this unity with wins over such ranked powers as Turpin, Seiling, Cheyenne, Okeene, and Medford. Though their season finally came to an end against eventual state champion Preston, the girls started a tradition of excellence that should continue for years in the future. Congratulations to Coach Pat Hawkins and his Lady Bearcats for an excellent year.

SENIOR HIGH BOYS' BASKETBALL

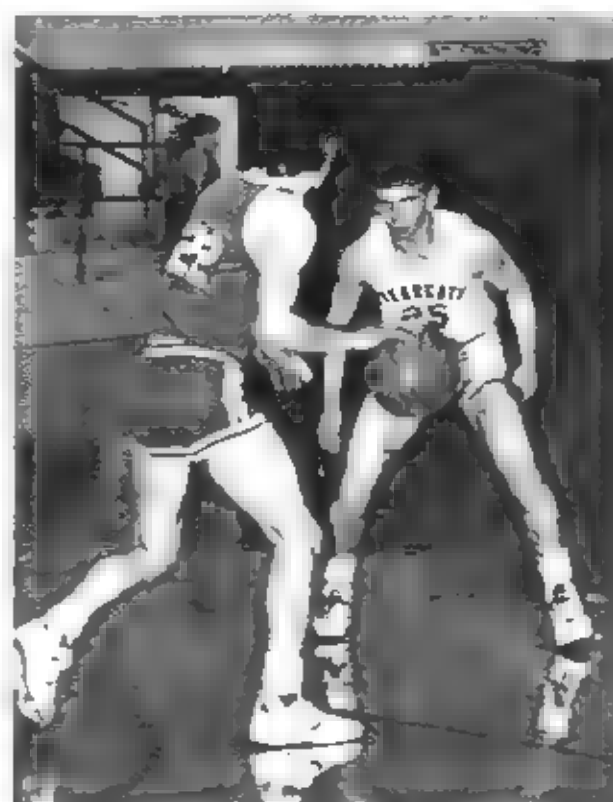

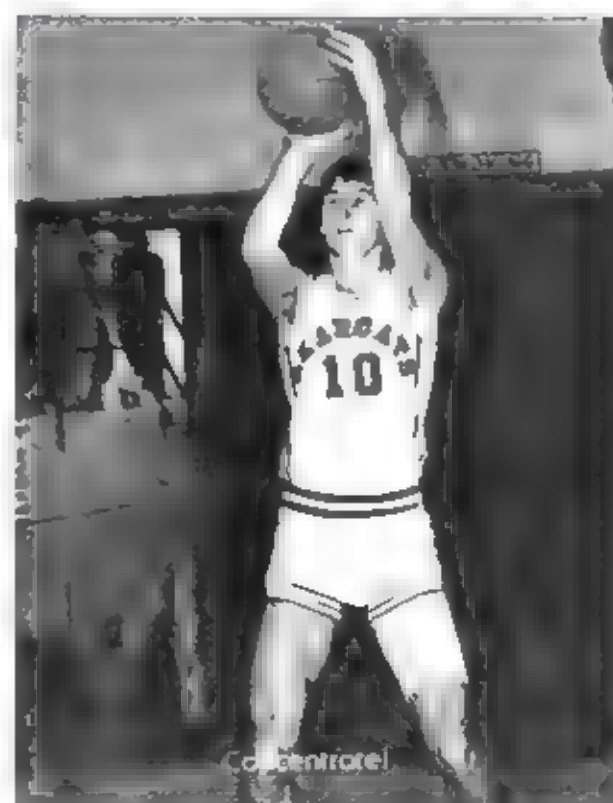

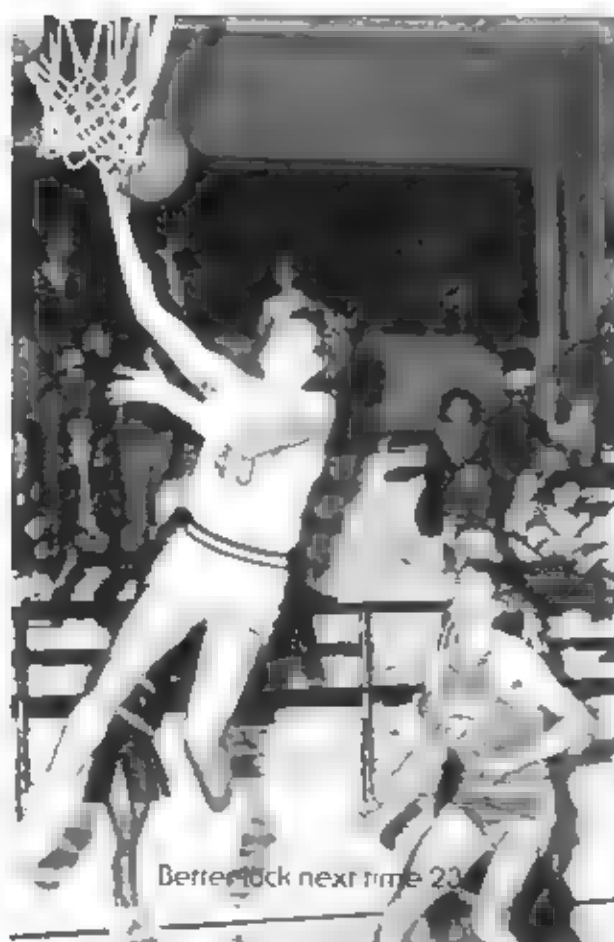

The year of 1987-88 was a rebuilding year for the Bearcats. Even though this was true, it did not hinder their hard work and determination to be a better team. As the year progressed, the players improved while also becoming more united as a team. They proved their unity and progress by beating rival Laverne to become the District Runner-Up. Their season finally came to an end against Boise City by a narrow margin of only one point.

With the team only losing two seniors, the experience that the underclassmen have had added to their continued determination and desire should make for better teams in the future.

Several players were named to the Red Carpet All-Star team. They were Brooks Crawford and Joel Kendall while Gary Mitchell and Galen Hodgson were named as alternates.

CHEERLEADING

At M.H.S.

The cheerleader is the one who is there through the winning and the losing times. Through both winning and losing, the cheerleader gives her all to bring the true school spirit out of a crowd. The Mooreland High School cheerleaders of 1987-88 were no different. They were there in the good times, they were there in the bad times. They did everything from making giant banners for the football team, to putting spirit signs in basketball players' yards, to putting streamers on poles beside Highway 15 going west out of Mooreland. We salute the 1987-88 cheerleaders for all the time and effort that they put in throughout the year. The spirit they raised helped 1987-88 be a year to always remember.

FOOTBALL

Although the record of the junior high wasn't impressive, they were long on desire and on hard work — two qualities that will be assets to their future high school football years. Eleven freshmen will be making the transition from junior high to high school next year. They are: John Garrett, Jody Dear, Dewayne Long, Jason Hopkins, Dustin Goodman, Grant Hepner, Ryan Reese, Sergio Solis, Sergio Meneces, Jeremy Schlarb, and Matt Hodgson.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

The junior high Bearcat basketball squads of 1987-88 were determined from the start of their season to improve to be the best they could possibly be.

As the girls' season started, there was uncertainty in just what kind of season they would have seeing that they had lost five starters off last year's squad. Only the girls themselves knew the potential they had. The girls started and finished strong with victories over rivals Laverne and Sharon-Mutual.

Though the junior boys' record wasn't impressive, they constantly improved from game to game. As they got better, they came closer and closer to wins. The boys finished their season with an exciting one point victory over Sharon-Mutual

THAT WINNING BEARCAT SPIRIT

'That Winning Bearcat Spirit' was this year's homecoming theme. The Bearcats played the Turpin Cardinals with a heartbreaking loss of 9-26. Renysa Wines was the '87 homecoming queen with Gary Mitchell as honorary captain. The other two participating candidates were Amy Schlarb and Tanya Corra. Chad Ferrell and Marvin Kehn were the chosen escorts. The 7th grade were the winners of this year's floor competition in the homecoming parade.

JUNIOR & SENIOR BANQUET

NEVER SAY GOODBYE

Never Say Goodbye was the theme dedicated to the Seniors from the Juniors. Emcee of the banquet was Melynda Cheap. Roxie Fussell read the Seniors' 10 year goals and Stacy Butler read what the Juniors predicted the Seniors to be doing. Senior class president, Gary Mitchell, gave the response of the Seniors. At 9:00 the prom took place, with a Paris Fantasy setting. When we least expected it the evening came to a close and we all agreed "to never say goodbye."

Don't be dismayed
 at good-bye
 A farewell is necessary
 Before you can meet again.
 And meeting, again,
 after Moments or lives, is certain
 For those who are True
 Friends!
 Someday our paths will cross again. Until that day we will never say goodbye.

GRADuation DAY

Memories are all we have,
as we step across the stage
We smile, cry and go on
as in the turning of a page
Thinking of the past,
brings happiness and joy
But without this small shelter
the real world is not a toy
We were all so innocent
at first sight of this place
So many choices and decisions to make we can't turn back, no time to waste
I remember they said
Don't rush, or you'll be grown
We laughed aloud, the years gone by and now we're on our own
We can see the foolishness
in cheating on that test, or laughing at teachers
we now see they knew best
We can't say what will happen in the coming years.
But we know where we've been as we say good-bye thru the tears.
It's time for us to leave —
but we stop for one last look
Then turn into the real world

The last day May 17

Invitations had been mailed weeks earlier, graduation rehearsals are over, and the last assignment has been turned in and graded. The long awaited moment is finally here. Twenty four seniors walk in across the stage, in single file, accepting the diploma and the responsibilities of an adult. They are no longer just another high school senior. Even now they are contemplating "What'll They Think of Next?"

Memories

During the 1987-88 school year we have experienced many various unexpected happenings. On the world, national, and local level there have been many surprises.

WORLD EVENTS

The war between Iran and Iraq escalated many times with almost no signs of possible negotiations. Iranian attacks on tankers and other vessels in the Persian Gulf were cut down by the increased U.S. activity there.

Signs of peace in South America appeared shortly after the new year began. A temporary cease fire in Nicaragua provided much relief. While the U.S. House rejected a bill proposing $30 million in humanitarian aid, 3,200 U.S. soldiers were sent to Honduras in response to a Nicaraguan incursion.

The Soviet Union withdrew from Afghanistan. Three Soviet cosmonauts went into space in the Soyuz space capsule to replace the crew of the Mir Space station, who had set records for endurance in space.

The U.S. lifted a $84 million dollar sanction against Japan.

NATIONAL EVENTS

This winter there were many severe storms. These storms brought record snowfalls to the Midwest, Southwest, and California.

The U.S. Supreme Court passed a ruling that officials in public schools have the power to censor school papers and other forms of student expression.

Pope John Paul II came to the United States for his second visit.

The National Football League went on strike because of an argument involving free agents.

The 1988 Presidential elections were in full swing by the end of the year, with the Democratic leaders the Reverend Jesse Jackson and Michael Dukakis and Republican leader George Bush.

The stock market suffered its greatest loss since 1929 with stocks plummeting over 500 points on October 19, 1988, now known as "Black Friday."

STATE AND LOCAL EVENTS

There were several new businesses in Mooreland this year. Something Special, Zahorsky Tag and Insurance Agency, The Vacuum Shop and Rec Center, and the newly reopened Snack Shack are just a few of them.

1988 marks the first year Mooreland High School honored students as academic lettermen. These students received patches and were eligible to purchase letter jackets.

This year also marked the beginning of a new tradition. Starting in 1988 the Miss Mooreland pageant is to be held in the spring rather than the fall.

The Lady Bearcats went to the state tournament this year. Although they are not the first team from Mooreland to make it to state, they are the first team to make it in almost twenty years. The fact that this was Mr. Hawkins' first year coaching the girls also says a lot.

The Mooreland High School band went to state again this year. This year is the thirtieth time Mr. Pontalone has taken the band to state.

We ended the year with a hostage situation at the Stringtown correctional institution. The situation ended after three days.

Fads and Fashions

The year of 1988 was full of different and strange fads and fashions. We started with friendship bracelets, and J.J. and Jolie Taylor seemed to be the head of the clan.

Everyone started to do different things with their hair. The more popular with the girls was the French braid, and there seemed to have been at least ten different ways to do that. And of course the boys had to get into it too, by carving different designs into their hair. You know their mothers had to have loved that.

The cowboy look was in this year. Wranglers, boots, hats, and conchos were really in style. It was mostly the boys that went for this look while the girls went more for the mini-skirts, although some M.H.S. girls gave a new meaning to the word "mini."

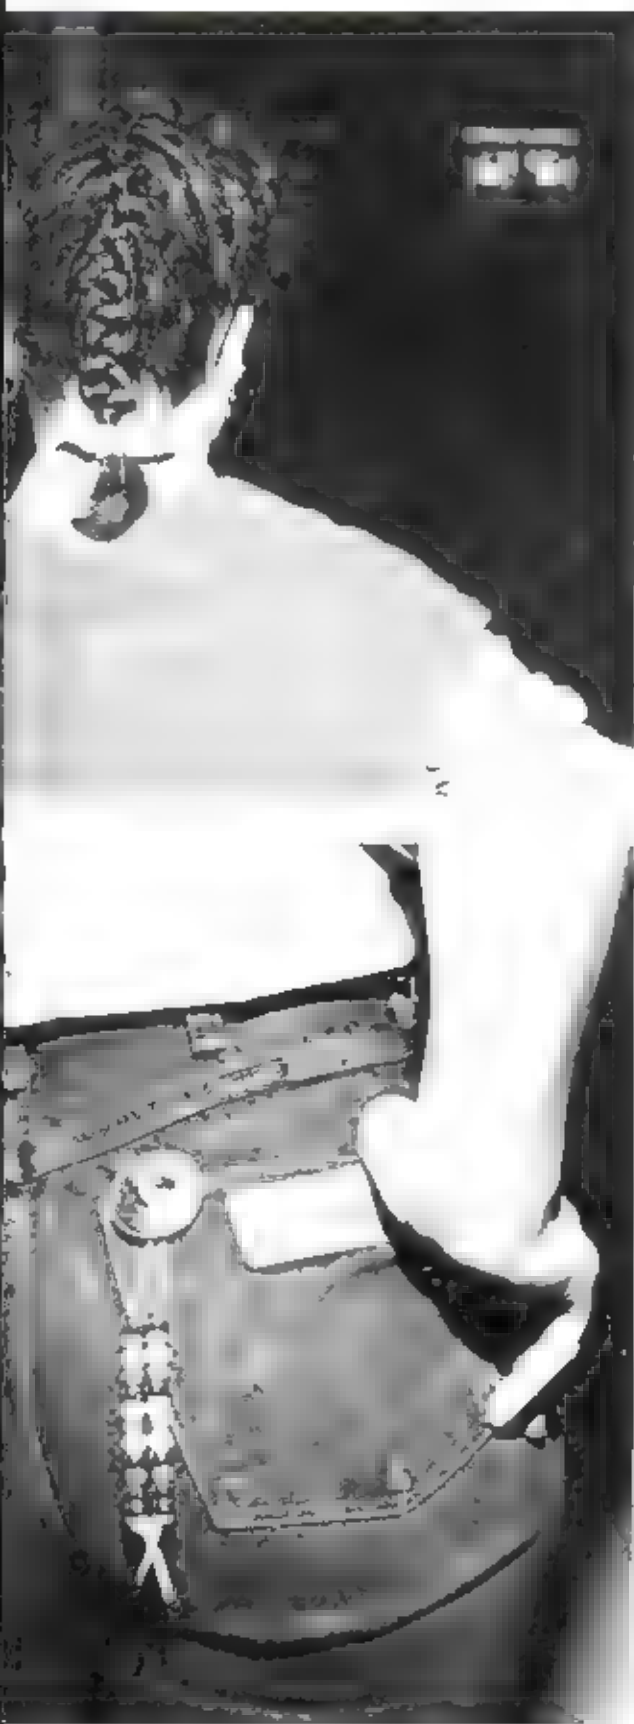

Once again the Levi's 501's were in style. The "shrink-to-fit" became even more. These days your old fashion blues are difficult to find. Now there are "white washed," "stone washed," "acid washed," and "over-dyed." You can even find "502 Saddleman's", and even "Prospector's." Yes, it's true, the classic Levi's jeans are now a thing of the past.

"Spuds MacKenzie" made his appearance as well. This year there were "Spuds" shirts, "Spuds" cups, "Spuds" jams, stuffed "Spuds", "Spuds" key chains, "Spuds" hats, "Spuds" sunglasses, and even "Spuds" pins.

Shoes came in a variety of styles. We had everything from high tops to high heels. We also had many colors of boots, and shoes with no strings.

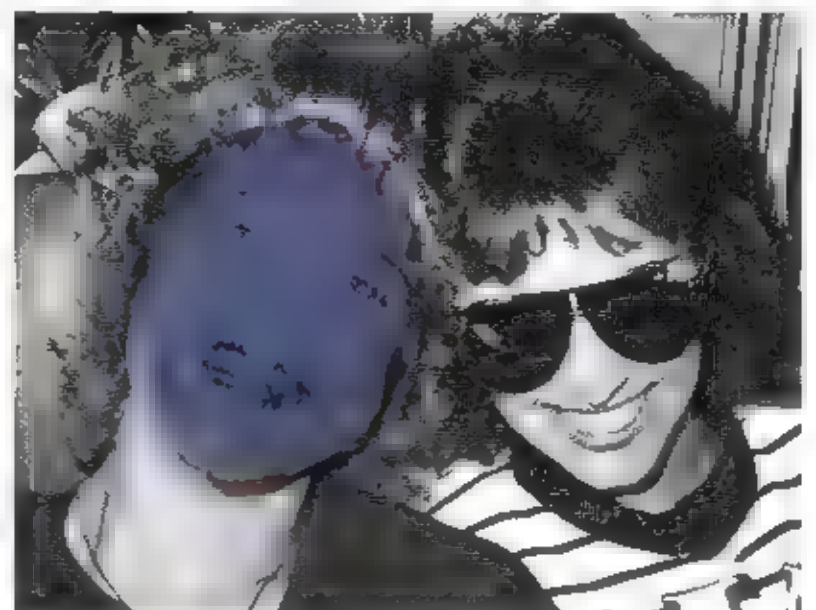

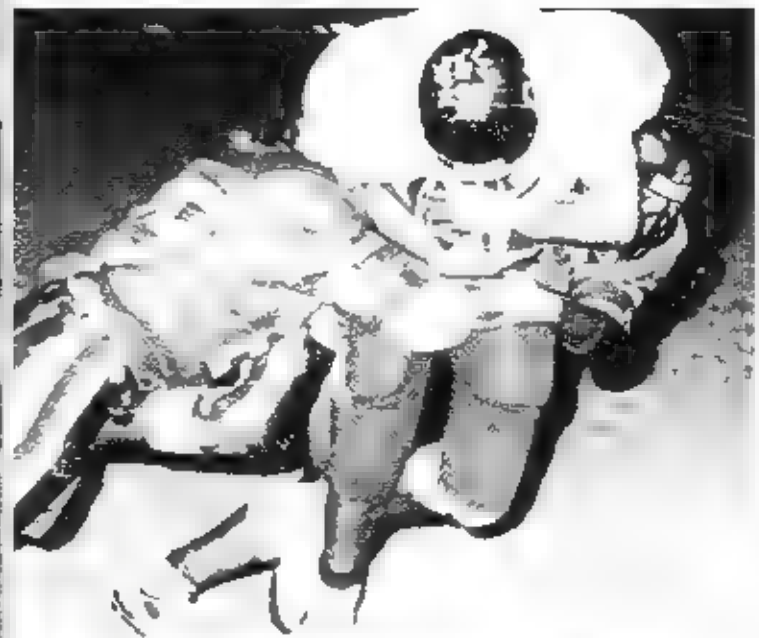

And of course we had those special people that had a style of their own.

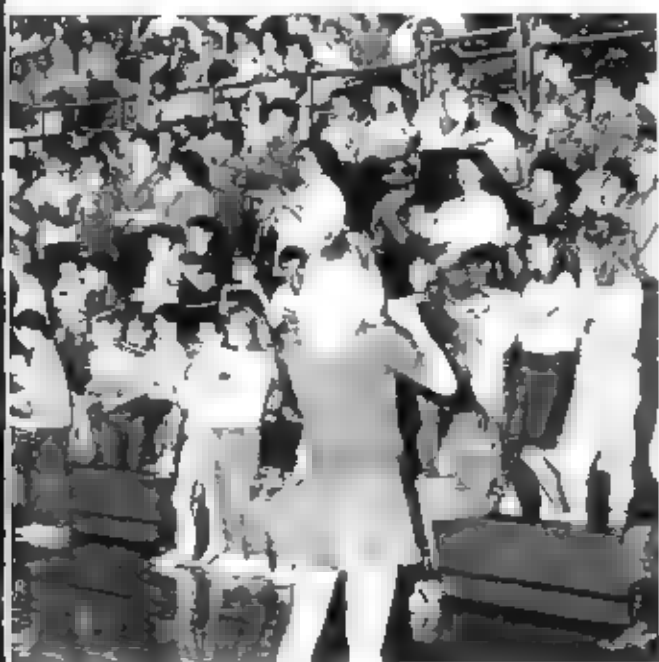

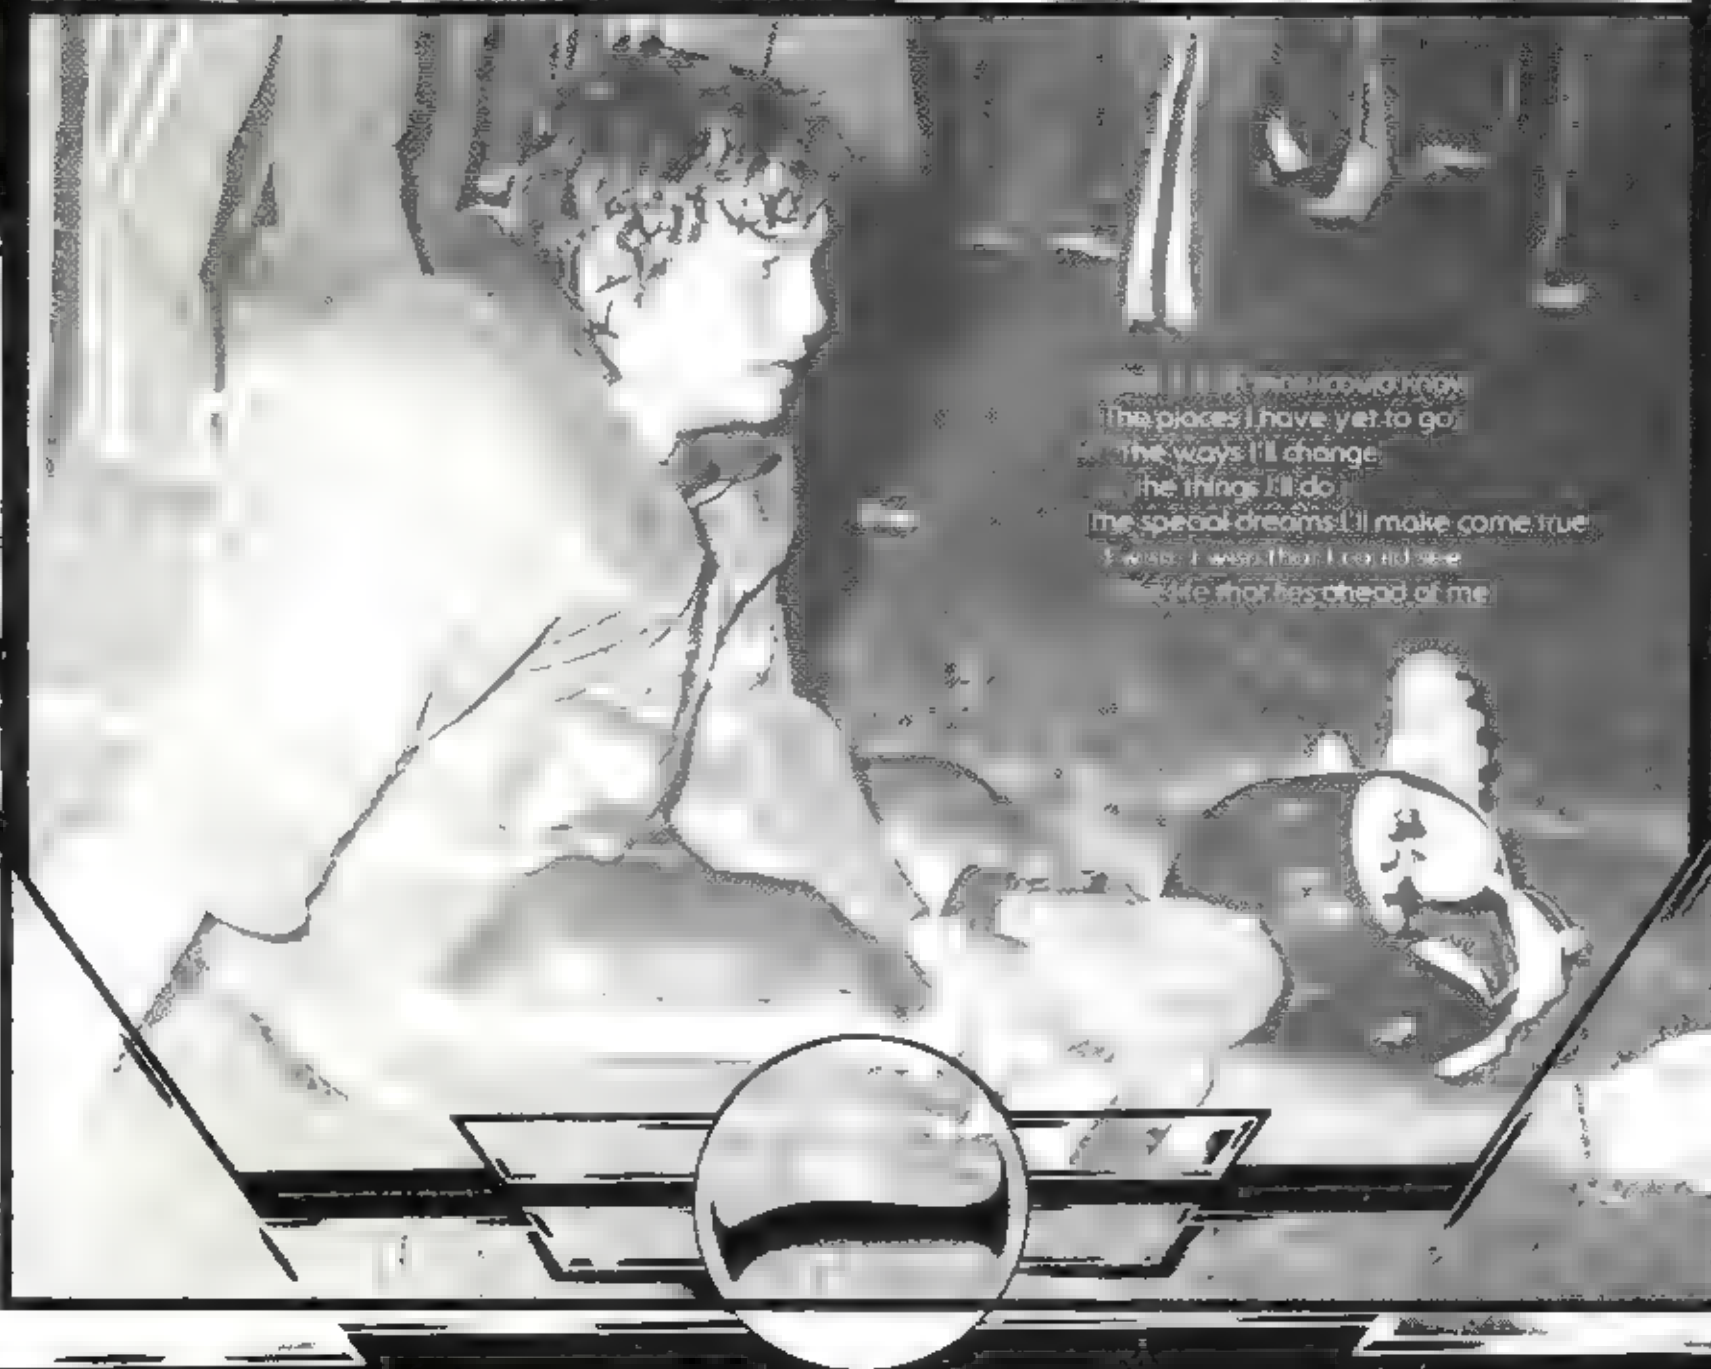

Just When You Least Expect It . . .

We Were There.

Thanks for the memories.

the places I have yet to go
the ways I'll change
the things I'll do
the special dreams I'll make come true
I wish I wish that I could see the future that lies ahead of me
